May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace as you trust in God, so that you may overflow with hope through the power of the Holy Spirit. - Romans 15:13

"You don't know, what you don't know." Many of us would have agreed that this is a true statement a year ago, but after 2020 and the beginning of 2021 there are whole new ways that this rings true. "Global Pandemic" was a term that would have led us to think about a movie or fiction novel. "Racial Justice" might have drawn a picture of Martin Luther King Jr's "I have a Dream" speech. Talk of "unrest in a national capital" wouldn't have even led us to think about Washington D.C. We are living in stressful times.

Grief and loss are often associated with death, the ending of a relationship or job, and natural disasters. In many ways what we are experiencing is ambiguous loss. The child still graduates but most of the traditions that go with graduation are missed. Thanksgiving still happens but we don't get all the smells of mom's house. We are grieving the sense that we know what tomorrow will be like.

All of this loss wears on us. How do you know when you are struggling? I invite you to reflect and answer this question for yourself. In recent conversations I have had with people they have answered: "I get judgmental, saying, 'I'm working harder than others,' I snack, I get tired, I get crabby, I don't engage, I over function and try to control, and I'm resentful." Do any of these resonate with you?

In Jesus' life on earth it seems like he was usually doing one of three things: teaching and talking about scripture, eating with people, or off by himself in prayer and reflection. Jesus' example shows us the need for reflection, to process our emotions and be open to God's movement in our lives and world. Our culture doesn't have a good emotional vocabulary. In our culture it is okay for men to get angry and women to cry, but both of those are secondary emotions. What are the primary emotions below the surface?

The life of faith is an emotional, spiritual and physical journey. 2021 will likely be a year that requires us to tend all three. It will be a year for tending to the many "don't knows" that exist in our lives, congregation, nation and world. It will be a year for clinging to the love of Jesus and being moved by Jesus toward love for our neighbor. Amen

Music Ministries—A huge thank you to Stef Fiser Kleven for her creativity, dedication and devotion. It has been fun and challenging to prepare and adapt worship to the online format with her. Thank you to Anne Phillips for her flexibility and technical skill. Sunday mornings she was often coaching Iris and I as we continued musical preparations. Thank you also to Nancy Peterson and the bells groups, as well as the multitudes helping to lead worship through reading, singing, ringing, playing, organizing, and sharing the peace.

Technology Ministries—A huge thank you to the dedicated group that makes the streaming of worship possible and works to improve the quality. Scott Rusten, who had figured out how we could stream worship, Bob Samuelson, who configured our sound system and along with Jason Tofteland, orchestrated the technological aspects during streaming. As the year progressed, Roger and Angela Birnbaum, and Steve Johnson were added to the team doing behind-the-scenes digital work. Thank you!

Connection with Shut-ins - Since before COVID, Peace has had a dedicated team that connects monthly with Peace Lutheran members who have limited ability to get out of their homes. A huge thank you to those callers: Jan Yarger, Diane Johnson, Lana Ferris, Grace Tauring. In addition to calls, cards are being sent out to those same folks on a regular basis and we thank Jeanette Colligan for providing that Ministry.

Every Member Calls - Since COVID, we instituted "every member calls" as a way to connect with Peace members to ensure everyone was OK and find out if anything was needed and how they might be helped. We have also used these calls as a way of having conversations with members about Peace and what the church is doing well and what might be improved upon, especially in these unusual times. Thanks go out to all of our callers who have dedicated much time in making these calls. Our callers have been: Joni Sutton, Grace Tauring, Judy Lubben, Matt Peterson, Jean Swanson, Peter and Janelle Leppa, Val Sorenson, Annie Bonow, Melissa Weinhandl, Michael Sorenson, Inger Trooien, Kate Tofteland and Jen Stoffel. Thank you to all of you!

Grief Support - For a number of years, in memory of her husband Bruce, Valerie Sorenson and family have given books to people from Peace that have experienced the death of a loved one. Thank you to the Sorenson family and to Lisa Lukis for sending out those booklets.

In Christ's Peace,

Pastor Kjell Ferris

President's Report | 2020

The year 2020 was a highly unusual time for everyone. Due to the pandemic we found ourselves in an ever changing situation, requiring enormous flexibility and fast-paced change.

Council began the year by welcoming Dan Anderson and Jason Tofteland as new members and bidding farewell to Lance Novak and Angela Akhigbe. Angela Birnbaum, Anne Stern, Michael Sorenson, Janelle Leppa, and Erin Jopke continued on for this past year. I would like to thank my fellow council members for their insight and serving in such an unusual year. Your dedication and caring were evident and appreciated.

Events in March made it necessary to adapt our way of life as a congregation. As the world and how we needed to operate seemed to change overnight we began online streaming of our services. We started with basic equipment with the talent of Scott Rusten and Bob Samuelson for video and sound. Members, staff, and Pastor Kjell provided the creativity for delivering services in an atmosphere where the rules were continually changing. Thanks to our observant members and Pastor we secured a grant to obtain upgraded streaming technology.

As in-person services were on hold, other normal church functions had to change including the canceling of summer programs and Day Camp. Thanks to the creativity of our members and committees we were able to create new activities including the Easter Garden project and Advent-in-a-Box to help fill these voids. Other ways of communicating were instituted such as every member calls. Thanks to all our members and the VISION Team who made calls, for their time and conversational skills. To continue to learn the needs of the congregation during a time of uncertainty we held a listening session in January 2021 to engage members in conversation to assess needs going forward into this next year. Thank you to all who attended and shared.

Although we are operating in a very different way from how we did a year ago, we are moving forward. This past year will undoubtedly be a year that everyone will remember. Although it was difficult to operate on a lot of levels it did present us with opportunities to create new mechanisms of sharing our message, some that will be useful going forward. I am honored to serve as council President and work with my fellow council members to support the church and our Pastor.

Peace,

Minister of Music Report | 2020

When I started working as a church musician almost fifteen years ago, I certainly never expected to be leading virtual worship services and producing virtual choir videos - but, wouldn't you know it, that's exactly what God expected of me for the year 2020.

It sure was interesting, to say the least, changing from the usual in-person worship to virtual services in mid-March. Holy Week 2020 was completely 'online,' and only possible due to the help of Scott Rusten, who had figured out how we could stream worship before COVID-19 even existed, and Bob Samuelson, who configured our sound system so that we could use Zoom in our broadcasts. As the year progressed, we added Jason Tofteland, Roger and Angela Birnbaum, and Steve Johnson to the team of people doing the behind-the-scenes digital work of streaming worship. We are all indebted to them for their time and efforts; without these volunteers we would not have been able to worship together weekly, or have our outdoor services in late summer.

I also feel such gratitude to everyone who has been willing to give our new methods a chance, as we worked out kinks and continue to tweak volume levels and other technical issues. Thank you for hanging in there with us through our blips and for faithfully tuning in each week. An even bigger thank you to everyone who has contributed to worship, either by being a lector or lead prayer on Zoom or video, by making a "Sharing of the Peace video," or by lending your voice to our virtual choral projects. Preparing in advance to lend your gifts to our virtual worship services is different than when we prepare to be in the sanctuary together; thank you for making the time and effort to contribute. What a treat it has been to see you all in your homes!

Allow me to take a moment to honor our accompanist, Anne Phillips. She has been a willing and flexible partner throughout our new virtual ministry, and I am SO blessed to work with her. Each week she arrives ready to play on piano or organ, and to roll with the hiccups or unforeseen changes that are unavoidable. Also, when I have a creative idea at the last minute, she is willing to try to bring it to fruition with me!!
Thank you, thank you, Anne.

It has been a huge loss that our music ensembles haven't been able to meet, and I miss seeing the members regularly, our music-making, and our collective effort at rehearsals. I am grateful to those of you who have contributed to our virtual projects, including Nancy Peterson and the handbell players. A pandemic cannot stop our musical praises to God!

Similarly, through the 'magic of Zoom' I have been able to continue musical and Biblical leadership with the children of the congregation. We have kept up our weekly meetings and it is truly a highlight to be in relationship with them in this alternative way. Putting together the Christmas program was different, but still a lot of fun, and the final product should be a point of pride for these kids. I am so grateful to Melissa Weinhandl for doing all the videography work, and for her leadership of the Children, Youth and Family team during this most unique year. It was a joy to put together the "Advent-in-a-Box" projects with her and many helpers, some who have also helped as leaders and teachers in our online programming: Annie Bonow, Deb Weir, Carol Forsberg, Amanda Bickley, Holly Anderson, and Chris Bacon. (Please forgive me if I have inadvertently left someone out!)

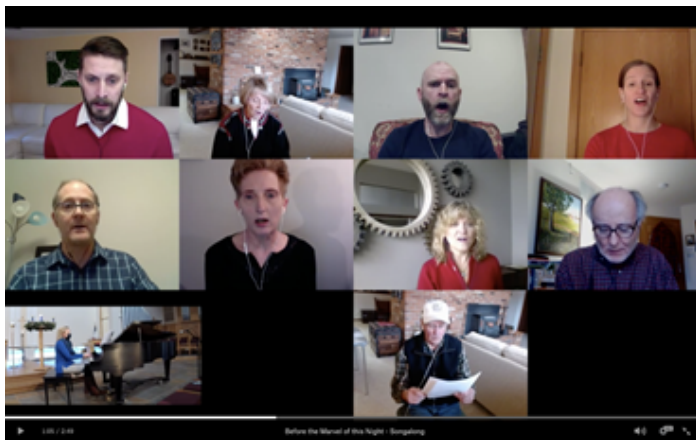

I have now been part of the Peace Lutheran community for almost five years, and I have experienced the generosity of Peace members to me and my family personally. I am so thankful, and I feel gratified and uplifted in my work as Minister of Music. Peace has been through some difficulties this year, and there will always be challenges ahead of us. I have faith that this community can withstand the strains and manage our differences of opinion in a Christ-like way.

"Therefore, since we are surrounded by such a great cloud of witnesses, let us throw off everything that hinders and the sin that so easily entangles. And let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us, fixing our eyes on Jesus, the pioneer and perfecter of faith." ~Hebrews 12:1-2

Children, Youth & Family Report | 2020

When I sit down to write my part of the annual report every year, I go back to my report from the previous year to wonder and reflect on the goals. This year did not go as planned. Our goals moving into 2020 were to continue to assess who we are as a team and to continue to grow toward building a program that will help to encourage life-long faith formation. With the entrance of a pandemic that forced us to move away from in-person programming, we moved from growth to maintenance. As it became clear that this new way of doing ministry was going to be our reality for longer than we had hoped, we began to be more curious about creativity. Something that this team has been incredibly good at is the willingness to try something new. Not only have we been able to move from maintenance to creativity, I believe that this team has been able to provide enriching programming even though we have had to do much of it online.

Our first challenge of the year was Easter and our normally larger Palm Sunday event. We made the “resurrection gardens” remotely and had a very well attended virtual gathering. We believed it to be important to continue with Sunday school for our kids and provided online education on Wednesday evenings. Unfortunately, we had to make the decision to cancel all summer events including day camp and family camp. Camp Wapo did offer a “camp-in-a-box” option. A box was purchased for every family and some of the activities were done together virtually. We were able to hold various events in person and outside through the summer. While we normally would discontinue Sunday school during the summer, we kept up with our Wednesday night programming to continue to give kids some “face time”. While we have missed some families, this has been well attended. At the start of the summer, we offered a story time on Saturday mornings. This fall, we started using a curriculum written by a local publishing house called “Spirit and Truth”. These lessons are focused on the elements of worship. Our next challenge was Christmas and being able to put together a meaningful Christmas program. Even though we were not able to be together, we had fun with the creativity that video afforded us. We also put together the “Advent-in-a-box” intended for all ages. We distributed 41 “boxes” and it was very well received.

This was a challenging year in many aspects. While none of our programming went as expected, this team was able to move through that, grow in our ability to be creative and be responsive to the needs of the community. This team has definitely been a positive part of the community at Peace and I am filled with an immense sense of gratitude for them. I am also incredibly thankful for the families and individuals who continue to show up and support our work. I am not sure what 2021 will bring. While normally I would have some defined and tangible goals going into a new year, this time I do not. The three overarching goals that will guide us in the near future are flexibility, creativity, and relationship building.

VISION Team Report | 2020

As I begin writing this summary, I think about all that has happened since the first VISION meeting in May of 2019. Our group consists of Janelle Leppa, Jen Stoffel, Kate Tofteland, Inger Trooien and Valerie Sorenson as well as Pastor Kjell. We had some additional help from Jim LaDoux from Vibrant Faith to get us started and guide us through our work.

Our goal for 2020 was as a church to discover who we are, what we have to offer and where we are going as well as decide our priorities and create a plan to live into God's preferred future for Peace Lutheran. We wanted to engage members and leaders to work with us in setting and achieving our goals.

On 2/19/20, we held small group sessions and gathered information on Peace's strengths and challenges. We had some observations and comments and started to rethink our practices and approaches as well as some experiments worth exploring. We desire to be a church that lives by faith, is known by love, and brings hope to the world. Connect, Care and Celebrate became our mission. Detail of our notes and ideas are available on the church website.

Unfortunately, the Coronavirus hit in March of 2020 which slowed down our progress and made carrying out some of our goals more difficult.

I invite all to read the Vision document on our website to see more of the detail of our work. It will be a working document with changes made when appropriate as we change or modify our vision and our mission. Please pray for our church during this difficult time in our community and our country.

Respectfully submitted,

Valerie Sorenson

Health Ministry Report | 2020

When Peace hired a Faith Community Nurse (FCN) in 2013, the Health Ministry Committee was designated as the “support team” for the FCN to plan and coordinate Health Ministry events and programs. Sondra Weinzierl resigned from the FCN position in May 2019 and Peace has been unable to find someone to fill the open position since then, having only two people express interest and both withdrawing from consideration upon further inquiries about the specifics of the job. The challenge of finding a FCN is not unique to Peace. When we began our FCN search we were aware that Messiah Methodist church just down the road in Plymouth had been searching for a FCN for over a year. At this point we think it is a realistic conclusion that we will not be able to hire a FCN any time in the near future in part due to the pandemic and lack of available qualified applicants.

In order to address some of the congregational care needs that are currently going unmet, we would like to recommend that Peace formally suspend the search for a FCN and place the Health Ministry Committee on hiatus. Our hope is that this would give Pastor Kjell and the council the opportunity and budget to explore other options for providing pastoral/congregational care without the “health ministry” component.

We pray that there will be a day in the future when Peace can again hire a Faith Community Nurse to provide Health Ministry to our congregation, but under the current circumstances, we know it's time to press pause for now.

Yours in Christ,

Lisa Lukis

Outreach Committee Report | 2020

The Outreach Committee has a focus on publicizing the great things that happen at Peace, both to the surrounding community and to our own members. The committee works closely with church office staff.

As I look over what was written about this committee one year ago, there is grief for the things we have missed out on, but we can have joy and anticipation for better times ahead. For instance, we weren't able to participate in the Hamel Days Parade last summer, but we can look forward to the time when we can have children of all ages help to spread the news about our church once again. Second Sunday treats were something that we all looked forward to each month after worship. This practice of course ended after serving in March. Whenever we are able to add this act of fellowship back to our calendars, I, for one, will be taking a second cup of coffee and perhaps a second pastry as well!

In May, our committee helped with the effort to create and distribute yard signs that said, "We Are All In This Together," with our church web address included. Hopefully, these signs not only reminded our neighbors that we have a shared sense of caring and community, but also that comfort and hope can be available in the form of a worship service, even during a pandemic.

Welcome Baskets are a project that our committee has worked on for a few years. If you know of anyone who could use a little TLC in the form of a gift basket, please let any of us on this committee know, and we'll be sure to have something for you to deliver to a friend or neighbor.

In our monthly PeaceNotes publication, we have been highlighting Peace members who are living out their vocation. If you know of someone at Peace who you think should be featured, let the members of this committee know.

Like all of you, our committee looks forward to the day we can worship together in person, enjoy fellowship with one another face to face, and work together to spread the word about Jesus and about Peace. Be sure to contact us if there are things you'd like to work on with us.

In Christ,

Property and Operations Report | 2020

The Peace Building Committee has still been active even though the building isn't being actively used by the congregation. In 2020 the committee completed the following maintenance tasks:

- Replaced 4 furnaces in the middle mechanical room
- Cleaned the grease trap located in the Kitchen
- Cleaned the sanitary sewer line from the building out to Medina Road
- Painted the restrooms next to the Kitchen
- Replaced the batteries in the emergency exit lights
- Replaced the shelf under the dishwasher
- Replaced light bulbs and fixture ballasts when they go bad
- Replacement of furnace filters on their normal replacement schedule (and are switching out filters in inventory from MERV 7 to MERV 13 to filter out smaller particles)
- Repair roof leaks
- Cleaning of graffiti and spilled paint in the parking lot
- and many other small jobs throughout the year

Members of the committee make weekly walk-thru's to check the building out; the intent is to identify issues before they become real problems.

When the pandemic situation changes and we can gather again, the committee will be making more intensive evaluations of systems, gather crews to do what is necessary and have the building as ready as it can be for us to be together again.

Many thanks to Jack Bacon, Tim Hughes and Mark Stavrum for making walk-thru's and taking on tasks as they arise. David Forsberg will continue to be on the Committee, Mark Stavrum has taken over as the Chair of the Committee.

Respectfully submitted,
